Jennifer Burns

Jennifer Burns is a Deputy Director in the Division of Supervision & Regulation at the Federal Reserve Board of Governors. She is responsible for oversight of the Federal Reserve's supervisory programs and supervisory stress testing, specialty supervision and risk identification activities.

Jennifer began her career as an assistant examiner in the Bank Supervision and Regulation department at the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond. In 2010, Jennifer took the helm as Senior Vice President for the Supervision, Regulation and Credit division and was promoted to Executive Vice President in 2015. In September 2017, Jennifer moved to the Board of Governors as Deputy Director with responsibility for overseeing the Federal Reserve's supervisory program for systemically important financial institutions and supervisory stress testing activities. She assumed her current responsibilities in March 2019.

Jennifer holds a B.A. degree from Michigan State University and an M.B.A. from the University of Virginia, Darden School of Business.

Grovetta Gardineer

Grovetta N. Gardineer is the Senior Deputy Comptroller for Bank Supervision Policy at the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC).

In this role, Ms. Gardineer directs the formulation of policies and procedures for the supervision and examination of national banks and federal savings associations, chairs the agency's Committee on Bank Supervision, and serves on the OCC's Executive Committee. She oversees the units for policy related to credit risk, market risk, operational risk, and compliance risk, as well as the units responsible for international banking and capital policy, accounting policy, and community affairs. She assumed this role in March 2019.

Previously, Ms. Gardineer served as the Senior Deputy Comptroller for Compliance and Community Affairs since March 2016. In that role, she oversaw agency compliance exams on national banks and federal savings associations and supervised the agency's Community Affairs and Community Reinvestment Act (CRA) programs. She also had responsibilities for policy and examination procedures relating to consumer issues and anti-money laundering and for representing the agency on interagency groups and activities related to compliance, CRA, fair lending, and the Bank Secrecy Act.

Ms. Gardineer was the Chair of the NeighborWorks® America Board of Directors from June 20, 2016, to June 27, 2019, and is currently a board member.

Ms. Gardineer previously served as Deputy Comptroller for Compliance Risk at the OCC and oversaw development of policy and examination procedures relating to consumer issues and anti-money laundering. She served as a key advisor to the Committee on Bank Supervision and to the Comptroller on compliance and CRA matters. Ms. Gardineer joined the OCC in 2010.

Before joining the agency, she worked for the Office of Thrift Supervision, where she served as the Managing Director for Corporate and International Activities. Before that, she was the Managing Director for Supervision Policy, where she was responsible for several programs, including capital policy, credit risk, trust operations, accounting policy, and information technology risk assessment. Before joining the Office of Thrift Supervision, Ms. Gardineer spent several years as an attorney with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation handling enforcement actions and preparing policies and regulations affecting the financial services industry.

Ms. Gardineer earned her juris doctor degree, cum laude, from North Carolina Central University and her bachelor's degree from Wake Forest University.

Doreen Eberley

Doreen R. Eberley is the Director of the Division of Risk Management Supervision (RMS) at the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC).

In this role, Ms. Eberley leads the FDIC's bank supervision, risk monitoring, and policy development activities through a workforce of approximately 2,600 employees. She assumed these duties in February 2013.

Ms. Eberley began her FDIC career in 1987 and previously served in a number of leadership positions within RMS in Washington, New York and Atlanta. She provided leadership and policy guidance in key positions throughout the financial crisis, including Acting Deputy to FDIC Chairman Sheila Bair and Acting Chairman Martin Gruenberg. She additionally served on the professional staff of the U.S. House of Representatives' Committee on Banking and Financial Services under a fellowship program during the 105th Congress.

A native of Florida, Ms. Eberley holds a BA in Economics from Cornell University, Ithaca, New York and an MBA from Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia.

Karen Solomon

Karen Solomon advises clients on a broad range of financial services regulatory matters. Karen's extensive experience working in agencies that supervise national banks and Federal savings associations enables her to offer an informed, practical approach to addressing regulatory issues.

Before joining Covington, Karen served as the Acting Senior Deputy Comptroller and Chief Counsel at the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC). In that role and in her prior role as Deputy Chief Counsel, Karen's work included developing and drafting regulations and advising on issues involving bank powers, structure, compliance, and preemption as well as on licensing, legislative, and litigation-related matters. She had a leadership role in key OCC initiatives, including the agency's implementation of the Volcker rule, recent fintech chartering initiative, and federal preemption efforts. She also worked extensively with other Federal agencies on joint or collaborative regulatory projects. Karen joined the OCC in 1995. Before that, she was Deputy Chief Counsel at the Office of Thrift Supervision (OTS) and, earlier, held senior positions at the OTS's predecessor agency, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

Ms. Solomon received her J.D., from Catholic University of America, Columbus School of Law and her B.A. from Catholic University.
