A Seat at the Top: A Panel Discussion With Financial Services Trade Association CEOs

ALLRISE DC and Cleary Gottlieb invite you to an in-person panel discussion with three well-known and highly respected banking trade association CEOs, Lindsey Johnson of the Consumer Bankers Association, Briget Polichene of the Institute of International Bankers, and Nicole Elam of the National Bankers Association. Briget, Lindsey, and Nicole will discuss what it takes to run an association, their varied paths to attain trade association leadership, their career opportunities and challenges along the way, and their brand of leadership. This is also an opportunity to hear about the current issues their associations are tackling.

We look forward to catching up with you at a reception immediately following the discussion. As with all of our events, this is open to financial services professionals from government, industry, law firms, and trade associations, and is intended to comply with the reception exception to the congressional gift rules and the de minimis exception under the Federal Banking Agencies' ethics rules.

Tuesday, November 1, 2022 | 6:00 p.m. – 8:00 p.m.

Cleary Gottlieb | 2112 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20037
